A commitment to best quality

Cherry fruit growing has been strongly modernised during the last few years. New varieties offer fruits with very high quality: large, dark red, firm and with excellent flavour. Most common varieties available are: Samba, Korvick, Kordia, Lapins, Skeena, Regina and Sweetheart (put into chronological order of harvest). Harvesting happens for a period of about six weeks depending on weather conditions. Some growers supplying Pacbelimex are now equipped with rain-proof structures providing availability and quality fruits despite bad weather.
